DISCHARGE FROM BANKRUPTCY.

POINT OVERLOOKED IN LOCAL CASE.

PARTNER OF W. G. HUMPHREYS NOT EXAMINED.

SMALL DIVIDEND.

Humphreys and Mr. Ernest Humphreys, partners in the firm of Messrs. W. G. Humphreys and Company, applied for their discharge from bankruptcy before the Chief Justice (Sir Court this morning.

Entirely Overlooked.

Mr. Prior said that when he filed the application he was not aware and could not guess that Mr. A. D. Humphreys had never had his public examination, which should have been held in 1925. For some reason or other it had been entirely overlooked, but it was not the debtor's business to apply for saw parts of the machine dropping public examination. Mr. Prior added that he hoped that the public examination would take place at the next Bankruptcy Court and enable the application for his discharge to be made at the following Court. The public examination of Mr. E. Humphreys was finished in October, 1925.

Continuing, Mr. Prior said that they were only concerned with the position of the firm, Messrs. W. G. Humphreys and Co. of Stephen's Bullding, Nos. 67 and 69, Voeux Road Central, as there was no personal bankruptcy at all.

Financial Position.

Mr. Prior went on to read the report of the Official Receiver (Mr. E. P. H. Lang) which stated that a Receiving Order was made on debtors' petition. According to debtor's statement of affairs the total assets were estimated to produce $39,713.96. That figure included the sum of $25,000 for goodwill and trade marks, but the trade marks only realised a few hundred dollars and the goodwill subsequently proved to be valueless, which left the remaining assets estimated at $14,713.96.

According to the statement of affairs, the total liabilities expected to rank for dividend estimated at. $362,423.70, whereas the total claims admitted amounted to $332,760.24. The assets ultimately realised a sum of approximately $23,955, and payment of expenses there remain ed the sum of $19,100.43 available Grenadier Guards, he served for distribution, which enabled a South Africa, the Soudan and the return of 5.74 per cent. to be made Great War. ## PROCEEDINGS.

There was a sequel at the Marine Court this morning to the case in which To So-tai, the coxswain of a Cheung Chau ferry launch which is said to have collided with a junk off. Green Island in the early morning of July 24, resulting in the death of a Chinese male child, aged one year, was charged with manslaughter. It will be recalled that when the case came up for hearing at the Kowloon Magistracy on Wednesday, Mr. Somerset Fitzroy, the Public. Prosecutor, withdrew the charge of manslaughter and substituted another charge under the Merchant

The New Charge.

The following is the substituted charge:-- 'That you, To So-tai, being a person in charge of the steam launch Sun Tai, which was in collision with trading junk Licence No. T5531H on July 24, 1930, in Victoria Harbour, falled to render to the other vessel, her master and crew, such assistance as was practicable and to save them from danger caused by the collision, contrary to Section No. 422 of the Merchant Shipping Act of 894."

Mr. Hin shing Lo, who appeared for the defendant, in his statement to the Magistrate (Hon. Commdr. G. F. Hole,) said he hoped his learned friend Mr. Fitzroy would not say he was wasting the valuable time of his Worship, but he had to ask his Worship to note that it was necessary for him to submit two pleas.

Alternative Pleas.

As Mr. Lo could not legally ask his Worship to place on record his two pleas at the same time, he would submit first of all the plea of autrefois acquit, and, if his Worship thought this was bad, he would submit one of "Not Guilty."

Continuing, Mr. Lo said:—"Your Worship, my client was yesterdayat the Kowloon Magistracy acquitted on the charge of manslaughter.

Mr. Fitzroy:- I beg your pardon, Mr. Lo. The charge of manslaughter against your client was withdrawn. He was not acquitted on that charge.

No Gross Negligence.

Mr. Fitzroy later pointed out that the Crown did not propose to proceed with the charge of manslaughter in the absence of evidence of gross negligence and intimated that they did not consider the case serious enough to justify a charge of manslaughter.

Mr. Lo, however, argued that the question of negligence did not arise until collision had been proved. He pointed out that his client was therefore placed in peril of two legal penalties on the same accusa-

PAIR OF THIEVES SENTENCED.

TEAM WORK WHICH FAILED THROUGH BUNGLING.

How two pickpockets were thwarted in an endeavour to rob a pedestrian in Queen's Road West on Saturday last was told to the Magistrate (Mr. H. R. Butters), before whom the men were charged, at the Central Police Court yesterday afternoon.

It was stated that they excited he "suspicions of two district watchmen by continually peeping into the pockets of pedestrians as they walked along. Keeping them under observation, the watchmen were able to give a detailed story of how, finally, the suspects were much attracted to a man wearing a white jacket and pair of black trousers and a topee, and fixed on him as a possible victim.

After holding a hurried consultation the suspects ranged themselves, one on either side of the intended victim, and embarked on what was to have been a deft operation with a handkerchief masking the move-ments of the fingers. Unfortunate-ly, they bungled the task. Warned, the pedestrian instinctively tucked his arms across his breast, and having thus effectively protected his breast pocket, looked round for the thieves. These latter im-mediately turned tail and fled, being followed by the watchmen and seized after a chase over several

Both prisoners were convicted by Mr. Butters, and sentenced to six weeks' hard labour. Inspector John Murphy, prosecut-ing, also preferred a charge of disobeying an order of banishment, against the second prisoner. Convicted on two occasions for similar offences, the prisoner, the Inspector stated, was expelled, after serving his last sentence in 1927, for a period of ten years. He returned to the Colony the following year and was then sentenced to nine months' hard labour and ordered to be whipped.

He now received a further term of nine months' hard labour in addition to the sentence inflicted on the charge of attempted larceny, and was also ordered to receive 24 strokes of the birch.

NO PROOF OF MEN'S INTENT SHOWN.

CHARGE OF DETAINING A WOMAN FAILS.

The absence of proof of the intent to sell a woman for an immoral purpose was the weak link in a case brought under the Protec-tion of Women and Girls' Ordinance against four men who appeared be-fore Mr. Butters at the Central

Court yesterday afternoon.
Inspector J. Murphy, attached to the Secretariat for Chinese affairs, prosecuted and indicated to his Worship that the girl had been brought down to the Colony from Honam, Canton, for the purpose of her entering into the immoral pro-fession. The position was originally put to her but she refused to consent and was only enticed to come to Hongkong when she was promised employment.

On arrival in Hongkong efforts to have her admitted to a house proved fruitless and the suggestion was advanced that she should become the concubine of a certain man. The woman refused and requested that she should be taken back to Canton.

Subsequent information lodged with the Police led to the arrest of the four men. His Worship indicated that there was no evidence of intent to sell the woman for the purposes of prostitution. In trying to marry her as a concubine the men were perhaps doing her a good turn. Inspector Murphy replied that they were apparently charitable people. They must have been endowed with the virtue of charity. His Worship intimated that the men could not be convicted for

After hearing the evidence of the woman his Worship remarked that there was no proof that the defendants had detained her with the intention of selling her for prostitution and discharged them.

Labour politicians are disturbed by recent manifestations of women's propaganda. Feminist organisations have been claiming, in the interests of sex equality, that existing safeguards for women should be abolished unless they could also be extended to men. The Research Department of the Labour Party has instructed speakers how to combat this propaganda. They are told that the Party stands for special protection for women, and that the International Labour Office adopts the same standpoint. Labour women are urged to ask for more and more special protection in factory legis-

Silver Paper Work.

A novel and interesting occupation which will fill up your spare time, and at the same time be very useful, is the making of pictures in silver paper.

With a little patience it will be found quite simple, and it is an excellent way of using up any old picture frames. After taking care to remove the glass and clean it well, one side should be coated with a very thin layer of Brunswick black, which is obtainable at a very small price at any oil shop. Take care not to put the paint on thickly, or failure is inevitable. It dries in a very short time—say three hours.

The next thing to do is to trace the drawing (or draw free-hand) on the paint with a sharp pencil.

For the appealing ingenue who has grown up, this new princess gown with peplum train in gleaming white satin is pleasantly sophisticated. The rear decolletage is the new deep U cut and the tight foundation on which the lower flounce is poned gives a particular jauntiness to the ever-youthful peplum.

Since those times, ordinary mail services have been immensely improved, especially with the opening up of the telegraph cable has long since played a role of much value in rapid means of communication on urgent matters.

At present, it may be a triffe premature to speak of the time child, found abondoned on vacant when we shall be able to talk by telephone to practically any part of the globe, but that day is surely coming. Indeed, the next five years will probably witness marked changes in the present means of communication. As we have on a previous occasion remarked, a great deal will depend on the future of the wireless-cable merger, but, in any event, it is inconceivable that Hongkong can indefinitely remain outside the big developments that are pending. This matter is of far greater importance to the Colony broadcasting service, since it will mean big advantages to the commercial life of Hongkong. It does not, for example, require much imagination to realise the tremendminutes' talk with London on some matter of extreme urgency. Similarly, in Government matters and in private concerns of residents, August 14th, to Mr. and Mrs. the radio-phone is destined to be of untold value. So we do wise to look ahead and visualise the future possibilities. Meanwhile, anything cate dance by Miss Alla Nedler place has not yet been discovered that can be done to hasten the time of which we speak must win the approval of all who wish to see this Colony take its rightful place the matter of Imperial communica-

Mr. F. X. D'Almada, senior, Messrs. D'Almada and Mason, was for plaintiff, and defendant appeared in person.

Counsel explained that plaintiff lent the sum of $3,300 to the defendant firm in September, 1929. Of that sum $1,000 was repaid leaving a balance due of $2,200 An action was commenced against the firm and against defendant as partner. The firm did not enter an appearance and judgment in default was entered against them for the money due. The issue partnership, denied by second defendant, was ordered to be tried.

Mr. Sheldon went on to say that the defendant firm was established in February, 1928 and carried on business until September last year when it was given up. Before February 1928, Mak Ying, who was a property owner, was carrying on a business of earth contracting amongst other things, and after the banking venture failed she went back to her previous work of earth contracter. At the end of 1927, at the Hop Fung firm, Canton, there was a -discussion between Wong Yuen-kit the managing partner, and Mal Ying, when the latter suggested that they should establish a bank in Canton. She offered to put up $15,000, half the total capital, but as they could not agree about the the negotiations through. Mak Ying then said she would come to Hongkong and es-

One of the curious changes in Patel modern New York is the fight of the millionaire from the mansion to the flat. To free the home life of the rich from servant troubles: laundry bothers: worries with leases and taxes; the fatigue of engaging a chauffeur, and even lesser burdens, is the aim of the latest residential developments in this city.

The new generation of millionaires, declining the trouble of keeping house for themselves, are living in magnificent sky-scraper apartments, where the management will make itself responsible for everything down to the smallest details of each day's domestic arrangements. #### RIGHT TO STRIKE A SERVANT.

MISTRESS'S GROUNDS OF AN OLD LAW.

NOT JUSTIFIED.

The claim that a master or mistress has the right in law to administer "reasonable chastisement" to a servant was, put forward at Watford police court by Mr. D. C W. Walsh, solicitor.

He was appearing for Mrs. Molly Seaward, of Sandy Lodge-road, Rickmansworth, who was fined £1 and ordered to pay £4 13s, costs in a summons for assault brought by her former nursemaid, Emily Minine Bailey,

The girl, giving evidence, said that she was nurse to Mrs. Seaward's two youngest children. Yesterday passed quietly. After the boy and girl had been South of Peshawar, gardens were quarrelling Mrs. Seaward said. Fresh parties of "You are no good as a nurse. He nerved himself, and they discussed details. There was plenty of time to give orders for the other rooms at Gramercy Park to be prepared before they came back. They would write from abroad.

Perhaps Clarissa would pick up some Italian furniture. There were a small sitting room for her and another bedroom, and also a maid's room, to be arranged. Clarissa could think of no more ideal home.

"Before we go, Alan, we must make Judy spend a day with us. I'm still a little worried about her You see, she's alone a great deal now, and Clara Jenks is so busy. Shall we go into the country and have a really nice day? I'll make her come."

"Yes," he agreed. "I'll hire a car-there's not room enough in want to come." Judy was decidedly more like herself, and Clarissa, now about to enter the very innermost circle of happiness, was clated and transfigured, so that she had no fears either for herself or for her beloved little friend. The future of Judy was as rosy as her own. She would have the world at her feet, and then in time she would find love, and she would know that it is the greatest thing

The day in the country was a great success. From Chummy's point of view, it was perfect. They drove up to a far corner of Connecticut, where there was a sweeping line of great hills. They climbed one of them, leaving the car at the bottom, and Alan carrying the luncheon basket. On the top they were rewarded by a grand view and a sweet cool breeze. They ate and drank like school children. Judy was entranced by the wide, open spaces, and danced about like a child of ten. Then they laid themselves down on the springy scented turi, and smoked and talked—at least, Judy and Chummy talked. They strolled about and picked flowers, made a wide circle of the summit of the hills, and finally reached the car again, scrambling down a steep hill-side, exhausted with laughter and fresh air.

Judy was dropped at her rooms after six o'clock, and Alan and Chummy made an appointment to fetch her at half past seven for the dinner and theatre, which were to make a fitting end to this gala

BAND CONCERT.

ENJOYABLE FUNCTION AT KOWLOON.

The fourth band concert arranged by the Kowloon Residents' Association with the co-operation of the Government, was held on the ground of the Kowloon Football Club last night and was as much an enjoyable and successful concert as were its predecessors.

For the occasion, the excellent Band of the 1st Bn. The Somerset Light Infantry, by kind permission of Major R. H. E. Bennett, M.C., Humoureske (Dvorak). and Officers, had arranged a variety of musical attractions, these ranging from the delicate airs of wellknown composers to descriptive pieces, interpersed with tunes holding the popular fancy.

Opening with a potpourri of military airs, the band proceeded to discourse the overture and gavotte Boheme-Mi Chiamano Mimi. from Mignon. The latter was rendered with all the daintiness which | Spanish Caprice (Korsakow). has made it the popular number it San Francisco Symphony Orch. 6603.

Perhaps the most popular number of the evening was Strauss' waltz "Beautiful Danube" played in an altogether entrancing manner, and which came in for much applause.

Other items were fox-trots; a Cockney suite by Ketelby, which Orpheus in Hades-Overture was descriptive of London life; a duet for two cornets admirably played by L-Cpl. A. Early and Bandsman H. Blogg; and two ! pieces, "Berceuse de Jocelyn" (Godard) and a trombone solo 'The Switchback" (Sutton) played by Bandsman G. Wallace.

The programme concluded with selection of songs by Wilfred Sanderson and with the Regimental March of the Battalion.

. Induced by the beautiful evening, a large crowd had gathered on the ground, and were treated to one of the most enjoyable concerts

A Lucas horn stolen from Mr Smyly's car on Sunday was yesterday recovered by the Police, Mr. Smyly's delight at the return of the articles was tempered by the loss of a Klaxon which he recently purchased to replace the Lucas.

This curious experience is reported in a story concerning the two horns given out by Police Headquarters this morning.

Mr. Smyly, who is described being connected with the Industrial and Commercial Bank, left his car in the city on Sunday night, and returned to it later to discover that a Lucas hand horn had vanished from its mountings.

Sub-Inspector Elston:-I find that there had been notices at the Oluh all along, though there were no notices at the spot itself. It is, however, known to everybody round about that this is prohibited ground. The defendants were

. The Magistrate:-It is very missing article. No sooner was operate with Communists, he likely that they have been cutting

> Sub-Inspector Elston: - They could not have have cut grass there for years because this ground has recenty been reclaim-

The Magistrate:—I like to be satisfied that these people really know that it is trespass.

Sub-Inspector Elston: - They have to walk over a broken fence. The Magistrate:-Well there you are. Why was the fence Sub-Inspector Elston:-It was broken down during the typhoon. The Magistrate:—I am going to caution them once more.

. The Magistrate (to defendants): -If you did not know that it was trespass before, you know it now. It is not your land and I am not going to caution people brought up for this offence any longer. Probably the next person will be fined. So you can tell your friends that the next offence of this nature

Sub-Inspector Elston: — The police will see that notices are put! up at the spot.
